

Decomposition Tea Data Sheet

Make observations regularly during the study period to compare plants grown under different conditions. Observations should allow you to compare numerous characteristics, such as days to sprout, plant height, color, number of leaves, hairiness, days to flower, etc. You may find it useful to make sketches to accompany your descriptions.

Date	Comparison of plant populations*
	Decomposition tea	Distilled water	Fertilizer solution

*Quantify differences whenever possible