

Write a summary of what you've learned. Be sure to include:

- the relationship between disciplines, themes, concepts, and processes;
- how disciplines, themes, concepts, and processes help you plan content-rich social studies units and lessons; and
- organizing or teaching strategies you plan to apply in your own teaching.