

Using Sticky Notes

Give students packs of sticky notes, and ask them to use them to annotate their reading. After students have experimented with the process for a chapter or two, ask them to share the kinds of annotations they made. Record their responses.

You may have some of the following:

- Research questions
- Unfamiliar vocabulary
- Information to remember
- Insights
- Questions
- Analysis of particular passages