

A special bookmark for: _____

"Read like a wolf eats."

—Gary Paulsen

As you read, consider the following when you write in your writer's notebook.

- I wonder about...
- I'm surprised by...
- I like how...
- ...reminded me...
- I don't see...
- Maybe...
- The author...
- I wish...
- I understand...
- I can't understand...
- I love the way...
- I noticed...
- Why did...
- I feel...
- I imagine...
- I think...
- I realized...
- If I were...
- I was confused by...

Things to notice:

- Character motivations
- Surprises in wording
- Compelling leads
- Passages that seem to say,
"This is the significance of this writing."

Some advice:

- Respond deeply.
- Write honestly.
- Admit confusion. Discover and expand on the author's ideas.
- Attempt to discover your own ideas about writing, about reading, about books, about yourself.

A special bookmark for: _____

"Read like a wolf eats."

—Gary Paulsen

As you read, consider the following when you write in your writer's notebook.

- I wonder about...
- I'm surprised by...
- I like how...
- ...reminded me...
- I don't see...
- Maybe...
- The author...
- I wish...
- I understand...
- I can't understand...
- I love the way...
- I noticed...
- Why did...
- I feel...
- I imagine...
- I think...
- I realized...
- If I were...
- I was confused by...

Things to notice:

- Character motivations
- Surprises in wording
- Compelling leads
- Passages that seem to say,
"This is the significance of this writing."

Some advice:

- Respond deeply.
- Write honestly.
- Admit confusion. Discover and expand on the author's ideas.
- Attempt to discover your own ideas about writing, about reading, about books, about yourself.